Vaginal Discharge What is it?

- Fluid made by glands in the vagina and cervix that carry old cells out, keeping the vagina clean and healthy.
 - Clear or milky, mucus-like substance that should not smell bad and may change color or consistency throughout the menstrual cycle

Is it normal?

YES!

This is how a vagina cleans itself

When to see a healthcare provider:

- You notice a change in your typical discharge smell, color, thickness, amount
- If you have new itching, irritation, pain
 - with urination
